

Swaywaver

Information

Swaywaver 3D treatment couch

The unique construction of Swaywaver offers a feeling like being floating weightlessly in a threedimensional space. A unique movement feeling and the possibility to apply treatment methods, which are known until now only from therapy in water, is given. Swaywaver represents the direct way to an absolute rest and relaxation: intensive and deep, sustainable and extremely soothing for the whole body. Treatment methods, provided by Swaywaver, have a regulating and normalizing effect at the musculature, the fascia and the different reflex points.

Already applied treatment methods in various therapeutic areas (e. g. physiotherapy, osteopathy) can be implemented more effectively by using the Swaywaver.

Swaywaver makes a treatment to a movement experience

There is almost no other treatment method which leads into such deep relaxation. The unique functioning of the Swaywaver-Treatment Couch, in combination with the specific treatment methods, brings added value to the therapist as well as to his patient.

The substructure of the Swaywaver-Treatment Couch consists of a rotating and spring board which is made of multiplex birch wood. Due to the stable and sophisticated mechanism, the couch is 360° horizontally rotatable and vertically free-swinging.

The couch and the upholstery made of high-quality foam and durable artificial leather can be disassembled compactly for mobile use.

The Swaywaver-Treatment Couch is available in 3 different version. The feet are available in 18, 30 and 50 cm. When using the 30 or 50 cm high feet, the treatment couch must be placed on a base plate Ø 100 cm. For easy transport, the base plate is divided in two parts.

Dimensions:

Applications

Osteopathy

The fascial therapy is part of the osteopathic treatment. The vibration of the Swaywaver Couch allows for a harmonious palpation of the fascia and enables the therapist to recognize and treat functional disorders in individual parts of the body. Through different techniques from very gentle to dynamic to intensive the osteopath works to achieve best possible results for the benefit of the patient. Thus, the Swaywaver becomes part of a holistic system.

Physiotherapy

With the support of the Swaywaver-Treatment Couch, the patient's body returns to movement patterns that he has forgotten over time. Through the elements position, force and movement, the Treatment Couch, the muscles are activated and strengthened, the muscle equilibrium becomes restored. Treatment can be used with many forms of therapy. There are hardly no limits set on therapists creativity (e. g. in the MT, KG, KGZNS).

Applications

Stress management

Ever more important is a modern, functioning stress management. On this couch the guest will experience a deep relaxation within a few minutes. The weightless movement in the three-dimensional space eliminates the sensory stimulus and activates the senses. On the Swaywaver, various relaxation and massage techniques, as well as cosmetic treatments can be carried out. There are no limits.

Personal Training

Perfect combination of core and pilates training with changing exercises. The training tool can be mounted seconds quickly, which the Swaywaver becomes a small gym. Personal training ensures that the training targets are realistic and achievable. In addition, correct movement techniques and a safe movement execution are guaranteed. All this gives your customer an effective, fast and long-term result.
